Not only will your son or daughter improve their loco-motor skill development (hopping, skipping, running, crawling, landing, swinging, leaping, etc) but they also will be introduced to preschool-early elementary social awareness skills (sharing, taking turns, courtesy, following rules, listening and directional skills, etc). Students also get introduced to basic gymnastics skill development (climbing, rolling, hand support skills, balancing) as well as general physical fitness skills (catching, throwing, eye hand coordination, kicking). This is all accomplished through a positive, fun, and energetic learning environment.

5:30-7:00pm (10 and older) Advanced Gymstars $194.25 inc GST
The Interclub level is for children who would like to participate at a more advanced recreational level of gymnastics. Routines on all apparatus will be choreographed and gymnasts will take part at 2-3 meets throughout the season. This level of gymnastics is for children 7 years of age and older. An annual training commitment of 3 hours/week is required. The Interclub Program gives gymnasts the opportunity to work towards showcasing the skills and routines that they have been working on in their regular classes at invitational Interclub competitions. If your child shows some aptitude for gymnastics, and would enjoy the challenge of friendly competition, this program would be ideal. The coaches can help your child progress through the stages of learning new skills on the different events. This program also allows previous competitors to stay involved at the sport of Gymnastics as there are two Interclub levels; Traditional (beginner-intermediate level) and Performance plus (Intermediate to advanced levels). The athletes begin their training in September and continue through until June, with a break during the Christmas holidays.

JUNIOR OLYMPICS JO 1-JO 6

By Invite Only

Being involved in the competitive program will require a commitment but it will also offer your child the opportunity to learn personal discipline and to gain tremendous self-confidence as they build individualized goals and accomplishments. Fun is still important at this level, but athletes are carefully guided towards the competitive levels. Gymnasts with the right skills, who show interest in competing, and are willing to commit to organized yearly training are invited to move into our advanced classes. Gymnasts who meet certain standards of excellence are selected for our competitive teams. Physical and emotional well-being, along with personal and gymnastics skill development, are the primary objectives of this program as gymnasts learn to apply their mind and body to the fullest extent.
